Dumb Chills and Fever.

Douglasville, Tex.,—"Five years ago I was caught in the rain at the wrong time," writes Miss Edna Rutherford, of Douglasville, "and from that time was taken with dumb chills and fever, and suffered more than I can tell. I tried everything that I thought would help, and had four different doctors, but got no relief, so I began to take Cardui. Now I feel better than in many months." Cardui does one thing and does it well. That's its secret of its 50 years of success. As a tonic there is nothing in a drug store like it. As a remedy for women's ills, it has no equal. Try it. Price $1.00

DOG PREVENTED THE SUICIDE

Black Retriever Saved From Drowning an English Woman Who Had Sought Death.

How a gallant black retriever saved a desperate woman from drowning was related at the Stratford police court, recently, when a woman residing at Walthamstow, Essex, was remanded for medical examination on a charge of attempted suicide. A resident of Leyton was passing the Hollow pond, Leytonstone, a few days since when he saw the woman struggling in the water, quite twenty-five yards from the bank. He at once said to his dog, "Jack, go in and fetch her," and the retriever immediately plunged in and swam out to the woman. He caught hold of her by the blouse and towed her to the shore. The animal did not seem to have much difficulty in swimming with her, but he kept releasing his hold in order to get a better grip. At last the pair reached the water's edge, and "Jack's" owner dragged the woman, who weighed about nine stone, to land. The woman said, "Let me die." Jack is two and a half years old. Since his puppy days he has always loved the water, and will swim for hours whenever he gets the chance.
